Hunting Season Near

The September cut-off of memberships in Vulcan and district Fish & Game Association leaves the sports group with an enrollment of 365 members with a few books of tickets not yet returned. Perennial chairman of this committee is Howie Marshman.

Three weeks ago the temperature went down to 37 degrees above zero, government notice of application for antelope licences appeared in newspapers and the local Fish & Game group, in conjunction with Wolfe's Hardware put on a Gun and Outdoor Show. All of which indicates the fall season and big game hunting are quickly approaching.

This program, held Aug. 10, featured a display of 63 big game rifles and shotguns valued at $6,000 and a full line of equipment, shells, knives, camping gear and on hand were representatives of the suppliers, Western Canada Hardware, to discuss the equipment with viewers.

One of the few Alberta points to receive this travelling exhibit Vulcan and district sportsmen turned out in large numbers to also see two films, take part in draws and enjoy lunch.

Winner of the sleeping bag being raffled by Vulcan Fish & Game was Wilma Boutland. Other draw winners were: Roy Straus, Nanton tie pin; Helen Dixon, Brant, tie pin; Frank Jepps, ash tray; Judy Steiner, lighter; George Seaman, folding table; Fern Russell, ice chest.

New Sidewalk Downtown Area

A town crew is busy this week laying a new sidewalk in the downtown area, from the old post office building to the Dakin Hardware corner.

The old sidewalk and curb was broken up by jack-hammers. The new walk will be about four inches higher than the old walk.

Friends Gather At Misc. Shower For Karen Smith

Karin Smith was honored at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. Helma Sharp on the evening of August 12.

Approximately 30 friends gathered on the eve of her wedding on August 20 to Wayne Caswell of Calgary.

Pink and white sweet peas and candlesticks decorated a table set in a background of pink and white streamers. After enjoying three

A. L. HUSBY

New principal of the County Central High School at Vulcan is A. L. Husby, who comes here from Vermilion where he was principal of the high school.

Mr. Husby served four and a half years in the RCAF during the war, as a radar mechanic on RAF bombers. After the war he took his B.A. and B.Ed. degrees at the University of Saskatchewan. He taught in Saskatchewan for six years before coming to Alberta and was on the teaching staffs at Tilley and Cremona before moving to Vermilion, where he spent the past seven years.

He is a member of the United Church, the Royal Canadian Legion and the Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Husby and his wife Phyllis have four children, daughters Margo, Patsy and Aileen and son Brian. Margo is starting in Honors English at the University of Calgary this year and the other children will be attending school in Vulcan.

Seated are Mrs. R. Todd, Mrs. J. McCall, Mrs. C. Graham, Mrs. J. Jamison, Mrs. O. Kandt, Miss M. MacKay, Mrs. L. Schmidt, Mrs.

Rec. Centre Project Still Alive

Despite apparent inactivity in recent months, the Vulcan District Recreation Centre project has not been abandoned and the committee has held two meetings during August to elect officers and plan for development.

Re-elected were: President, Pat Walker; vice-president, John Wolfe; treasurer, T. G. Brown; secretary, Virginia Mitchell; publicity committee, Frank Wythe; operating committee, Angelo Murphy; finance committee, Wm. Richardson; building committee, Boyd McKay. Directors for the society are Wally Taylor, Lundy Findlay, Dick Hammer, Mel Jordan, Howie Klippert, David Mitchell, Dr. Everett Hill and Peter Pickersgill.

At the Aug. 24th meeting of the group several points of future planning were decided upon. Books of tickets on the current "Grey Brick" raffle or $250 cash were given out. Upon completion of harvest a community auction will be held and auctioneers Tom Ruggles, Commodore Allen and Wally Franks will be asked for assistance in this sale.

Another carnival similar to the one successfully held last fall will also be staged with Bea Richardson, Bonnie Hill and Shirley Walker heading this committee. It is hoped to have a wardrobe to the value of $250 as a draw for this event.

It is also the intention of the recreation society to make application to Vulcan town council for the holding of a plebiscite authorizing financial assistance towards construction of the centre. As was described in the financial statement of the society which appeared in the Aug. 31 Advocate, the framework and useable portions of the former Meadowlark Curling Rink of Calgary, complete with ice plant, purchased for $30,000, is stored at Vulcan and a bank balance of $173.52 is shown. Major liability of the society is a bank loan of $6,425.81 and a final payment of $744.01 to Bill Wearmouth Holdings, Calgary, through whom purchase of the rink was negotiated.

The similar plebiscite held in conjunction with town elections last year required a two-thirds majority and was narrowly defeated, 140 votes in favor and 109 against. Since that time new provincial legislation conditionally

Sponsored By Lions

"Plan For World Peace" Is Theme of Essay Contest

The youth of the Milo and Vulcan districts have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Clubs—a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and or career assistance grant.

The Milo and Vulcan Lions Clubs, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, are sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today—Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July, 1967. At that time the prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

In announcing the contest locally, Milo Lions President Murray Phillips and President Evan Williams of the Vulcan club expressed hope that such a world-wide prestige award would come to this area.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967, was announced by the President of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prize with a winner from the two area clubs advancing to Lions Districts 37 competition in his (her) effort to qualify for the multiple district contest.

The Contest, sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions Clubs in more than 130 countries—in the free world, will be the largest Peace Essay contest in the world today, and has as its purpose the development of a formula for world peace.

"We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal," say its sponsors.

In announcing the contest internationally, President Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization is well qualified to sponsor

M. Johnson, Mrs. D. Hill, Miss Joyce Moore and W. Rutledge.

As classes begin the main problem being faced is the enforced doubling-up of certain classes in the absence of three teachers.

Science teacher D. Hansen is lost to the staff indefinitely through illness. A music supervisor is still being sought and Mrs. G. Todd is presently substituting for Mrs. D. Cormier who will arrive Oct. 1.

Grades 7 to 12, business and vocational courses are offered at C.C.H.S. and landscaping is being developed as a final phase of expansion which began two years ago.

Hope For Plebiscite

A work party spent most of one day this summer re-stacking lumber at the building site and the stored materials were reported to be in extremely good condition. A vote of thanks was extended to Dr. and Mrs. Everett Hill for staging a barbecue following this "bee" and also for the use of their coffee urn at these meetings, which is becoming standard procedure.

In future meetings of the society will be held every two weeks with the next one set for Sept. 7 at the Legion hall.

print of the building was sent this week asking if the plans could be made available so that they could be revamped and added to in order to sketch the addition required for the community centre portion of the building.

EDISON F. BARDOCK was appointed this fall as the new Superintendent of Schools for the County of Vulcan No. 2.

A native Albertan, Mr. Bardock received the degrees of B.Ed. and M.Ed. at the University of Alberta. He was vice-principal and principal at Trochu for 11 years and vice-principal of the Springbank school for two years prior to his appointment as a school superintendent by the Department of Education. Mr. Bardock served six years on the Executive Council of the Alberta Teachers Association and was a candidate for vice-president of the A.T.A. just prior to his appointment here.

Mr. Bardock's wife, Doreen, and three children, Jane Ann, Colleen and Randy, are remaining in Calgary until housing accommodation can be found in Vulcan.

Alberta Editors To Convene At Calgary

Editors and publishers from more than 50 Alberta weekly newspapers will meet in Calgary September 15-16-17.

Delegates and their wives will register for the convention on Thursday (Sept. 15) in preparation for two days of business sessions, resolutions and talks.

Feature speaker at the convention, to be held at the Holiday Inn, will be the Hon. A. J. Hooke, Alberta's Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Current president of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association is H. George Meyer of Taber. Convention chairman is R. C. R. Munro of Vulcan.

SUCCEEDS DON GREEN. Del Olsen, well known in the county through five years as vice-principal at Milo and two years in that same capacity at Vulcan, is the new principal of Hazel Cameron Elementary School this year.

Mr. Olsen's university training was divided between terms at Calgary and Brigham Young University, Utah and since 1959 he has attended summer school each year.

Mr. Olsen and his wife Mirra have two children, David, age 3 and Robert whose birth last Friday, along with school opening, must have left the father in a happily confused state.

Harvest Soon In Full Swing

The big harvest needs of sunshine and warm weather were in abundance over the Labour Day weekend as temperatures soared into the 80's and remained warmer than normal on Tuesday. The forecast called for somewhat cooler weather on Wednesday.

Swathing of spring wheat is now fairly general throughout the county although some fields are still fairly green and will require a few more days of ripening before they can be cut.

Although combining of rye and barley is now in full swing, most elevator agents estimate that combining of spring wheat will not be general until the end of this week. The exception is the Lomond-Armada area, where wheat combining is well under way.

Showers have fallen over most of the area in the last few days of August. The crop reports for the week of Aug. 26 to Sept. 2, show most districts receiving one-third to one-half inch of rain.

A good demand is reported for harvesting machinery and for new granaries. Harvest help is very scarce and many farm wives find themselves wheeling trucks from combine to bin.

is shown above demonstrating perfect form as she executes a dive during the show. Lynda Dann, Drew Price and Trevor Mays were other senior divers on display along with several of the juniors.

The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

FARM WARNING

Increased mechanism of the farm and the lack of understanding of the power of the machinery is creating many cripples. Farmers allow their smart youngsters to operate large pieces of equipment such as tractors on farms and highways because these machines do not require a driver's license and a youngster is not barred from driving them on the road. It has been estimated that at least one child dies each month through hitchhiking rides or driving a tractor on a public road. The child may be smart but his parents are not.

A HEAVY STAND of a sloughgrass type of hay in the process of being cut following drainage and backflooding on a former 135-acre slough near Yorkton, Sask.

SLOUGHS CAN BE PROFITABLE

A backflood irrigation and drainage project constructed approximately three miles northeast of Yorkton, Sask., is proving the benefits that may be realized from the development of seemingly useless and annoying sloughs.

The project involves three farmers who shared a large slough covering 135 acres of land on which little or no production had been realized in 50 years. How could access of farm machinery into this area be gained, while at the same time making use of the water supply available? This was the problem to be solved.

To make the land accessible to farm machinery, and make production possible, a drainage ditch and dyke system with a total length of 7,700 feet was constructed by use of a dragline. This provided access to the area and permitted hay production. Then by the simple and relatively inexpensive installation of a control gate and culvert, it was possible to use spring runoff water to flood irrigate the soil in the interests of increased production.

Technical services and construction supervision of the project was provided by the Melville district office of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration's Water Development Service. This also involved determination of the economic feasibility of the project prior to construction to allay the doubts in the minds of the farmers involved. Now that cost and production figures are available, the participants are in complete accord in their praise of the scheme.

The cost of ditching, dyking and installation of the backflood control structure was $1,761. Federal Government assistance through PFRA was $789, leaving a cost to the farmers of $972, or $7.20 per acre for the land restored to production. This year, with the aid of backflooding, over 12,000 bales of slough grass was harvested. With only 110 head of cattle between them, the farmers were able to sell a large quantity of hay after meeting their requirements. The total hay crop of 300 tons at an average of $20 per ton, has returned them a gross amount of $6,000 for one season's operation.

The three farmers have not decided on the course of action which they will take as a result of their new-found feed supply. One thing they do plan on is improvement of the quality of the present product through the broadcasting of brome seed. If they can find sufficient pasture, they may increase their livestock numbers, or they can continue to sell hay. Whatever their decision, they have found gold at the bottom of a slough.

He should get it right and get it this fall. New 34% Granular Ammonium Nitrate by Elephant Brand is available only through your Elephant Brand dealer. Cominco produces Canada's only granular ammonium nitrate; the only one with 34% nitrogen. It gives more plant food per spreader load, which means fewer stops. It is non-caking and flows evenly for uniform application.

And consider this: New 34% granular ammonium nitrate is now being used in making Elephant Brand 23-23-0 and 27-14-0. Result—products made up entirely of firm, uniform granules that stay uniform and flow evenly through any applicator.

Taken all around, Elephant Brand 34% N is the greatest granular nitrate fertilizer to hit the ground for Pete's, or anybody else's sake!

PLEASANT MEMORIES. The Lions swimming pool is now drained and closed down for another year but two weeks ago it was swarming with bodies and a unique group above. These are moms and tots, a new innovation to the pool schedule this year in which one end of the pool was turned over to mothers and their children for a brief period each day for two weeks to familiarize the youngsters with water and give mom a swim, no baby-sitters needed.

Attendance at this session depended upon the weather but on warm

Ann Hartung and Jess, Kathy Jordan and Derrick.

In the water are Eileen Nelson and Belinda, Marlene Aiken and Morgan, Terry Hagg and Ronnie, Betty Watson and Danny, Shirley Houlton and Janet, Lois King and Murray, Pat Tharlie and Debbie.

THE HOMEMAKER

MISS FRANCES ANN CULLEN
District Home Economist

Box 480, Vulcan — Phone 485-2117

Dear Homemakers:

We all know what a treat it is to have "Mom's homemade jelly" with whipped cream, hot buttered toast or roast turkey—Um-m-m—delicious!

Jelly making time is just around the corner with the crabapples about at their peak for jelly. There are a few checks which should make your jelly gel successfully.

1. Select sound fruit that is slightly under-ripe. Over-ripe fruit does not make good jelly. Green apples, currants, crabapples, grapes, quinces and sour plums make the best jelly without adding pectin.

2. Do not core or peel apples, quinces etc., as the whole fruit, cooked, gives better flavour and colour to the jelly.

3. Cook fruit in the correct amount of water (just enough to cover fruit) until soft and mushy.

4. Drain the cooked fruit through a moist jelly bag, in which the cloth is heavy enough to hold back particles which will cause cloudiness. A Canton flannel jelly bag is excellent. Do Not Squeeze the bag.

COOKING THE JELLY

1. Cook only 6 to 8 cups of juice at one time.

2. Measure juice into a flat-bottomed kettle.

3. Add sugar. Most cookbooks or home preserving booklets have a chart indicating the correct amount of sugar per cup of juice.

4. Heat and stir until sugar is dissolved, bringing to the boil.

5. Boil rapidly but do not stir. The shorter the time required to cook the jelly, the finer the jelly.

The jelly test is commonly called "sheeting off." When the syrup thickens and two drops along the edge of the stirring spoon come together and fall as one drop, the jelly is done.

SEALING THE JELLY:

When the jelly is done take it from the heat immediately. It is disastrous to let the jelly cool for even a short time. Pour jelly into clean hot glasses to within one-quarter inch of the top. While jelly is set but still hot, it should be covered with a thin layer of paraffin and another layer added the next day to fill crevices. This prevents "weeping." Cover the jars and label the jelly, storing in a cool place.

Information and booklets (free) on Home Preserving are available at my office or phone (485-2117).

Bye till next week.

Sow The Wind

(By C. J. Harris)

Sow the wind, it warns in the Old Testament, and you shall reap the whirlwind.

It is a warning that crowds into the mind with regard to the rash of illegal strikes that has broken out across Canada, and particularly to the mob of strikers who defied police and union leaders and virtually seized the Steel Company of Canada's Hamilton works.

"The strike," says a news report, "was sparked by fewer than 200 workers, many of whom roamed the plant instructing other workers to leave their jobs. Some strikers broke into supplier plants, which are not part of the Stelco group, and cut power cables to try to force workers to leave their posts. The strike appeared to have been well organized, but neither the union nor the company could identify those behind it. Some attributed it to young hotheads, others to Communists and still others to a group of Canadian autonomists within the union."

It may be an unwelcome truth, but labor's leaders have contributed to this spirit of lawlessness. They have long fostered disrespect and dislike for "the boss." Recently they have fomented defiance of the law. When the leaders of illegal mass picketing at Peterborough, Ontario, were convicted and sentenced, one labor leader denounced the judge as impertinent; another told the press, "if we can't find ways of conforming to the directions of the court we will have to disobey the court order"; another counselled union members all over Ontario to go out and repeat the offence, and added that the province would need new jails to hold all the union lawbreakers.

Sow the wind.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Box 334, Vulcan, Alta.
Sept. 4th, 1966.

Editor, The Advocate.

Dear Sir:

For sometime I have wanted to write, but thought that I would only be classed amongst other kippers or called another crank; however, the article of last week, written for Mr. Lowery of Blackie, prompted me to add my bit.

Having moved and lived close to town the past eight years, we left much of our belongings in our old farm home 18 miles south-east of Vulcan, owing to lack of space on the place we are on at the present time.

These things were kept on the home place until such time as we were permanently settled in town once again.

For several years in a row, hunters broke through the doors and windows to spend nights there.

Despite the fact that we kept on boarding doors and windows, prowlers managed from time to time, to break through again and again, picking up souvenirs of their own liking and out again. Larger things began to disappear, amongst which was a bicycle cart and a child's wagon, like new, an expensive one at that.

It was not long after that, that we missed an old clock, belonging to my husband's mother and nearly 100 years old; suitcases and boxes containing books, keepsakes and some papers (only valuable to us) were opened, emptied and scattered all over the floors.

Some of the trinkets had been brought from France when I came to Canada as a young girl in 1920 and given to me by my mother, when I was a child.

The place is not isolated and has been farmed from here all along, so it is not deserted either.

More recently, about mid-July, two kitchen chairs were stolen, also an old Bible, treasured and a keepsake, having been owned by an older member of the family, long deceased.

To this day, the whole house looks as if a cyclone had passed through and yet we claim to live in a civilized country!

There was a time, when doors were left unlocked for days at a time, the owners would return and find everything left intact, but that is a thing of the past. Because we trusted others, we have been victims.

The Bible says: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" — it also says, "Be sure your sins will find you out." The thieves have been seen and will be punished sooner or later, unless they make restitution.

I can well sympathize with Mr. Lowery of Blackie. The articles mentioned here, are only a few stolen from our old home place.

Some articles have been spotted, by an interested party, and the blame is not put on teen-agers, especially!

Thank you sir, for bearing with me.

— Mrs. B. N. Somerville.

SALES—In ever loving memory of our dear beloved son and brother, Rfn. George Sales, who died for his country Sept. 12, 1944. Think not they passed too soon who died so young.

Since over them the stern years had not flung Their bitterness, with lips still dewed with dawn, Courage inviolate and fear unborn.

They passed like sudden sunlight on the stream, And we are left custodian of their dream, Condemned to wait December's grim decay,

While they have captured an eternal May. —Ever missed by Dad, Mom, Lorne and Lyle. 6-1x

Beautiful memories he left behind. —Sadly missed and always remembered by his wife Margaret, Ruth, Skeez and grandchildren. 6-1x

SUMMER BEAUTY. One of the most attractive corner lots in town, the Harry Smith residence is shown above, with its creators, Harry and Grace Smith on their lawn. In 1964 the Smiths, who have farmed for many years three miles west of Vulcan, became semi-retired and moved to town. Previously Harry had moved a house over from Ensign, placed lands and to the Brooks Experimental Farms. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Adam, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Silbernagel and Pete Will and son, Joe.

it on a new foundation and renovated it inside and out.

The transformation from a barren corner to the shrubbery, flowers, lawn and garden, has taken three summers which is a jolt to those who have been nursing two or three trees and a row of flowers along for years, unsuccessfully.

Of course it helps to have time on a project such as this plus the use of machinery, and the separate well Harry had dug for his watering is a luxury not readily available to most.

Bordering the boulevard are African daisies and around the house and in corner plots and plant pots are samples of just about every type of flower to be grown here. "Of course," says Harry, "This is just a little patch compared to what we had at the farm."

Many other homes around town this year have become beauty spots as a result of good rainfall and hard work on the part of the hobbyist and it is a pleasure to see the benefits of so much preparation.

Changing Recovery Pattern Helps Heart Attack Victims

Call it stroke, apoplexy or cerebrovascular incident. By any name it causes one death in ten in Canada. Stroke is the third leading cause of death, outranked only by heart attacks and cancer. These facts are on the negative side of the ledger.

But there is another side to the stroke ledger, one growing brighter all the time. The Alberta Heart Foundation says that from 1950 to 1960, the death rate from stroke declined 22% among men aged 45 to 65. It says there is reason for optimism because in each year of the past decade research has uncovered and developed major aids for treatment and prevention.

There are several causes of stroke. As in heart attack, the underlying process setting the stage for a stroke is atherosclerosis, a condition in which arteries are clogged or narrowed by fatty deposits. In heart attack, clogging blood blocks flow to a part of the heart muscle. In stroke, artery clogging impedes blood flow to the brain.

Although the brain is only two percent of body weight it receives twenty percent of the heart's total output of blood. When a part of the brain is deprived of oxygen-laden blood, its nerve cells cannot function. Depending on which cells are knocked out, one may not be able to remember a telephone number or tie his shoes because the brain calls the signals that make minds and bodies work.

Like heart attacks, not all strokes are fatal, and many affected are back at work. Strokes vary widely in pattern and severity. Some strokes are so mild, they go almost unnoticed. Others, more severe, and affecting extensive areas of the brain can cause paralysis.

While prevention of stroke is the ultimate aim, there is much a doctor can do for the stroke sufferer. Almost immediately after a stroke the doctor may suggest passive exercise and massage to prevent muscle wasting. Here the patient's family can be extremely helpful. The family's wholehearted co-operation with the doctor plays a vital role in patient recovery. When rehabilitation starts promptly and is carried out faithfully, even severely paralyzed patients can make great progress in regaining functions impaired by stroke.

With recent research developments stroke is no longer hopeless and it can be expected that continued research will uncover more ways to help even larger numbers of stroke patients, and ultimately to prevent the occurrence of stroke.

F.U.A. BOARD MEETING

At the District 12 FUA board meeting held Aug. 29, at Claresholm messages were sent to Labor Minister Nicholson, Agriculture Minister Green, Dr. Kindt, M.P., and Prime Minister Pearson. In communication with these people the FUA Board urged the Government of Canada to use all available means to get the railways back to work immediately and effect a reasonable settlement. As other forces are constantly raising the prices the farmers have to pay to exorbitant levels, they urged that the farmers strengthen their bargaining position by joining the FUA in the upcoming membership drive and working in their own interests. Those attending the meeting from the County of Vulcan were Wilbur Matlock, FUA County Director; Mrs. John Papp, FWUA County Director, and Mrs. Forest House, District 12 secretary-treasurer.

GRAIN STORAGE INSECTS:

The large losses in farm stored grain of past years can be avoided. In many years, prevention will be all that is required. If you have bad luck, grain can become infested with insects and may have to be treated to prevent further serious losses.

Preventing infestations is the simplest and I suppose the cheapest way of tackling the problem of grain storage insects. Most insects and mites which cause problems can and do live in empty granaries. So just because your granary is in good condition this year doesn't mean that it won't be infected by the insects now in these buildings. It becomes necessary to consider methods of destroying any insects which might be in the buildings before they can cause any damage in this year's crop.

Quoting directly from the most recent recommendations, the following procedures help to protect newly harvested grain from storage insects.

1. Clean out, repair, and weather-proof the empty granary. Burn all sweepings to prevent insects from spreading to other granaries.
2. Spray the floor and inside walls with insecticide, such as 3% Malathion or other recommended chemical.
3. Harvest grain as dry as possible because insects multiply rapidly in tough grain.
4. If possible, avoid storing grain in bins next to animal feeds that are likely to be infested.

5. Fill the granary only to the top plate to provide crawl space and to allow ventilation.
6. If the grain has been binned tough, examine it every two weeks. To do this, crawl over the surface and feel the grain for warmth. Grain that is dry and cool seldom spoils.

Going further into the business of treating the building, there are a number of suitable insecticides which can be used. The inside walls, top plates and floors (except concrete ones) of empty granaries should be sprayed with a recommended chemical. The reason I mentioned 3% Malathion is that this chemical is one of the safer and most commonly used around the farm.

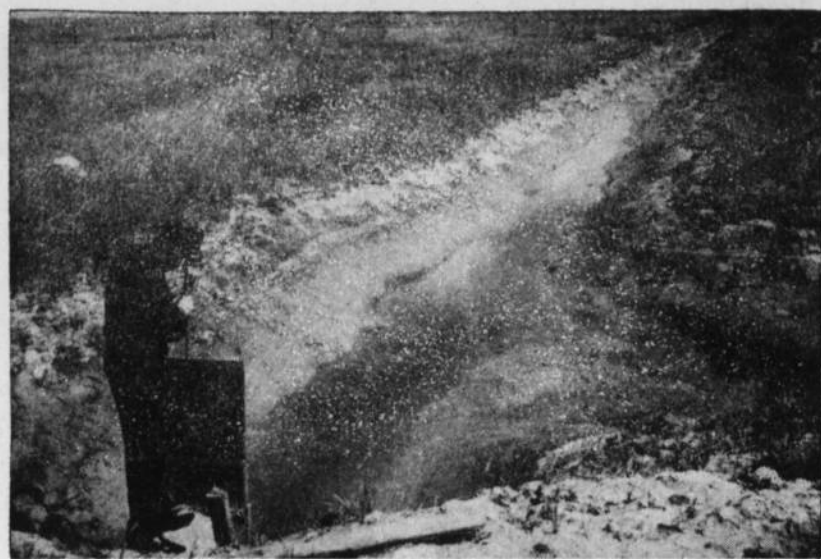

For concrete floors, a wettable powder is the best treatment. Any of the recommended chemicals will work if they are available locally as wettable powders.

The amount to apply is not too critical as more can be mixed as it is needed. Just over a half gallon of the insecticide solution will treat a 1,000 bushel granary. Or if you have a larger granary, 1 gallon will treat 1,000 square feet.

If your granaries are clean and all the old grain and dirt are removed, now is the time to spray. The reason for spraying early is that the application should be made one week before binning grain.

For further information on winter protection and other suitable insecticides, we have a very excellent publication available free from this office.
